Customize your video: Add or remove scenes, type text, upload photos and video, or start from scratch. Share your masterpiece on social media or embed it on your website. Create an animated video online, without breaking a sweat Studio-quality animation used to be something only big brands could afford. Today, thanks to Biteable, they are easy, cheap and fun to do. Creating eye-catching animated videos is now as simple as choosing your favorite character, infographic, or effect, and then editing the text. Start now and you'll watch your first video in as little as five minutes. Sparkle with studio-quality animations You have noticed that all the major brands make animated videos. They do it for two reasons. The first is that animation is fun and disarming, and is easier for people to engage with. The second reason is to give their storytelling more power. Bright colors, large symbols, and movement draw in the viewer and help them understand your point faster. Choose the animation you need from Biteable's large library. Some of Biteable's most beloved characters are animals, robots and a little man named Frank. Using professional animators (the affordable way) The Biteable online animated video maker has a great selection of cartoon characters and effects to choose from, including 2D, 3D, infographics, and stop-motion animation styles. They are all created by professional animators in our in-house studio. Our studio artists spend countless hours animating scenes so you don't have to hire a studio or freelancer to do it for you. Create great animated videos To help you create great animated videos, Biteable comes fully loaded with ready-to-use templates. Created by professional storytellers, our animation templates are the smart shortcut for engaging animated videos. When you're in the Biteable animated video maker, simply choose a template that best suits your industry or the look you're after. Editing is as simple as entering text or dropping into your logo. When you're done, you can share it instantly on social media or embed it on your website. OH MY GOD, I LOVE YOUR CRAZY, COOL WORK! This Biteable delight straight up-levleled with leveled throughout my game! I just created my first two videos and am ecstatic! Your perfect animated video To ensure that your Biteable animated video is a success, remember a few things while editing. Decide what you want to achieve point in any video is to decide what you want to achieve. It may be promoting a product, or it may be engaging your audience on social media. Another option is to explain your business on a website. Whatever it is, Biteable does to achieve your goal child's play. Once you're signed in, select your goal, and we'll show you a series of animated video templates tailored to reach your goal. It couldn't be simpler. Customize your animated video After you select a template, customize it. Replace the sample text with your own. Finally drop in your own images, video clips and logo. Other options include changing the colors to suit your brand (or mood) and choosing a track. Make your animated video pop with bright colors and a pounding soundtrack, or go for muted tones and a soft melody. Or create an animated video from scratch If you want more creative control, you can also create an animated video — like an intro or explainer — from scratch. Start by browsing the Biteable Scenes library (you can access by clicking the plus symbol on your timeline), select the style that works best for you, and then add more scenes to the animated video creator until you get what you need. Depending on the scenes you've selected, you can add text and pictures, and then choose your colors and music. If you're doing social media animation, hold it under 30 seconds. If it's for your website, we recommend that you don't do it longer than two minutes. The 3 secrets to creating a (fantastic) animated video from Pixar hits to big-budget ads, all professional animated content has three things in common: they tell a story, they're trustworthy, and they evoke emotion. 1. Telling a story with your animated video Storytelling can be scary if it's not your day job. Hiring a writer to create one for you is prohibitively expensive. Solution? We call them templates and they guarantee a great story every time. Biteable animated video templates are crafted for you by professional authors. They are designed to require as little editing as possible so you can make a top-notch animated video in a jiff. 2. Keep your animated video believable Great animation stretches the realm of credibility, but is still relatable to the viewer. Walking this fine line between reality and fantasy traditionally takes years of experience. All of Biteable's animated scenes and nifty effects are created by our in-house studio team. They are animation professionals who only do one thing: animate. Their wealth of experience ensures that every animated video you make with biteable animated video maker will be perfectly polished and wonderfully effective. 3. Tailor your animated video to create emotions Whether you want your audience laughing, crying or shopping, your animated video should elicit emotion. Biteables large library of animated scenes it easily. Make your followers smile with one of our friendly cartoon characters. Or get them hyped with one of our funky and and stage set. If your audience is professional, you can win them over with an infographic or one of our many animated icons designed for business. Whatever you want your audience to feel, you will find a Biteable animation for the job.
